

ONOMATOPOEIA

CIRCLE CITY CAMPUS — INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY
AT INDIANAPOLIS

City Campus of IUPUI, exam with Al Mitchler, Pres-y Campus at IUPUI, and ment at IU Bloomington. who were present at the e Student Government at f the Student Government nt of Butler University's

ERAL HOSPITAL TION IN THE WORKS

ianapolis Star reported at the Indiana General may be asked to trans-ip of Marion County
spital to Indiana Uni-year. General H

MITCHELL TO DEDICATE LAW SCHOOL

U. S. Attorney General John Mitchell will come to Indiana October 16th for the dedication of the new School of Law building for Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis.

Mitchell's audience will include many of America's most famous lawyers, jurists, and legal educators, all gathering for honor to Indiana's largest law school.

Among the speakers scheduled for the dedication ceremony are Tom Clark, retired associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, Leon Jaworski, president-elect of the American Bar Association, and Albert Conrad, president-elect of the Association of American Law Schools.

A national symposium on Man's Environment and the Law will open the dedication day ceremonies on the IUPUI University Quarter Campus in Indianapolis.

FACULTY SYMPOSIUM HELD

The Circle City Campus, IUPUI

Intramural Bas Get Underv

The Intramural Basketball league will start on October 17, 1970. The groundswell of interest would like to follow the format of the past.

The league is to consist of teams of students who are registered students here. Each team will have a captain who will be responsible for the selection of his team. The captain will meet with his team-mates each week and will be responsible enough to inform them of their team.

IU INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

An instructor interested in helping students know about international programs has the following information.

"For a quarter of a century, Indiana University has been an extraordinary expansion of interest in and awareness of the international component of higher education.

Substantial e

the United States day cease fire in t first I couldn't ugh the repetiradio, and in ame to believe laugh at that ough that the accept any problem of esolved; that ns go back to hand, the Isough to acre not fool-a minority

Mrs. Golda become a refer to go isconsin."
t her own dangerous already.
ire is en-han ever ation of s already v missile ent just Canal.
ashingesident instalnately, which ptians ssia is stop there

East.
g so do ble in th

di

~

~

SPORTS

(Continued from page 1)

An important criterion for winning in this league is a good strong bench. It is therefore important for all participants to show up each week to support their team. Students here have demonstrated a very fine quality of basketball in the past and things would be better this season. All students who do not participate are urged to come out each week and watch your fellow classmates in action.

— Willie Boone

"POOPISTS" THREAT TO WORLD

by Rebecca Barnes

Christians of the world, unite! Papists are trying to overthrow world governments and set up the Pope as world ruler. At least, that is the firm conviction of one old woman who was shouting her fiery, anti-Catholic theories at a downtown lunch hour crowd on a day in late summer.

She was standing at the corner of Pennsylvania and Ohio when I saw her. The light was against me, and as I stood waiting for it to change, she lumbered up and shoved a newspaper under my nose. Cackling gleefully, she began her diatribe against "them dirty 'Poopists'!" and their infamous leader, "that dirty 'Poop'!"

Before she found out I was a Catholic, we exchanged a few words. "They're at it again!"

"Who?"

"Them Catholics! Them dirty Poopists is trying to overthrow the Irish government!"

I looked dubiously at the newspaper she held under my nose. It was a copy of the Star and the old woman pointed triumphantly at the lead headline — "North Ireland Near Revolt."

"See? See? Them Poopists is sowing the seed of trouble all over the world. They been kicked outta Scotland, England and now Australia!"

"Australia?"

"Australia! Them English, bless their souls, they won't let them Poopists go too far. The queen's own children will stop 'em!"

By that time, she must have noted the expression on my face, a mixture of amusement, anger and astonishment. Peering closely at me she poked me in the ribs and exploded into a violent tirade.

"Are you a Papist? (I nodded to reassure her) I knew it! I knew you were one of them! I can always tell a Poopist by the smirk on their faces!"

"Am I smirking?"

"Always do! You dirty Catholic Poopists always smirk, and do you know why?"

"I'm dying to hear."

"Because you're Communist anarchists, that's what you are! You want to throw over every government and set up that 'Poop' as the ruler. Well, Christians won't stand for it! I'm a Christian, and I won't

ICE IS COMING

The CCC Student Senate is bringing in ICE to cool down the temperature and warm up the body.

ICE, in the midst of a college concert tour that is already over two years old, is coming to the Circle City Campus compliments of your Student Government. Coming off successful engagements at Hanover, Bloomington, Wabash, and with THREE DOG NIGHT, they will be appearing at the Turner's Athenaeum ball room, 401 East Michigan Street at the first Senate dance of the year. The dance will be on Friday, October 16 from 8:30 until 12:30, and all CCC students and their guests are invited free of charge.

ICE, originally from Indianapolis, is a five man group that plays mostly all their own material, with an occasional dip into the good materials on the charts.

Berry, Jack, Jimmy, John, and Mike of ICE invite all of you to come and join.

This dance is being paid for by allocations from the Student Activity Fund.

IUPUI's Downtown Campus Bookstore will open its doors at 8:30 a.m. daily to students seeking text materials for fall classes. Bookstore manager Barbara Simonon and her staff have been preparing for weeks to receive the onslaught of student requests for books and supplies.

Located at 522 North Delaware on the ground floor of A building, the bookstore will remain open until 8:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 6:00 p.m. Friday evenings. An important point for students to know is that the bookstore downtown sells texts only for courses offered at the downtown campus. Students wishing to purchase materials for classes on other campuses of IUPUI must do so at those campuses.

Refund policy for the bookstore requires a cash register receipt in order to get money refunded. Refunds will be granted on new books returned within two weeks or start of class, whichever involves the longer period of time.

stand for it. Communists, that's what you are!"

She continued shouting at me even after I turned into a drugstore. I watched her lumber on down the street, muttering and shouting in turn, waving her newspaper at everyone who passed.

I sighed with relief. I wanted to tell her that I really had no intention of overthrowing the world, but I knew it wouldn't have done any good. She was already certain. I was tempted to run after her and threaten her with Papist voodoo, or tell her that I would have the Pope organize a lynching party and come to get her.

I decided not to, though. She probably would have believed me.

Good Bye

by Alan J. Abraham

Would you like to try love?
You said you would think on it?

Don't
That's how people get hurt.
Jump if you want,
But where you land is fate.

Time has no meaning
With love
And so you cry.

Your love is dead.
Don't worry about your lost soul,
It can be found if you want to look.

Don't wear black for your dead love

Nor your lost soul.
Life has not stopped,
Only love.

Only love.

Tomorrow brings on a new dawn,
And with this new light,
No tears will fall.

Forever forgotten now.

I knew it would work out this way.

Didn't you?

I won't cry either love.

I'll just say good bye,
And wait for those times

When thoughts of past love float by.

Hello again

Then once more

Good bye.

Good bye.

SEE THE

BIG BAD RED

vs.

WEST VIRGINIA

AT

BLOOMINGTON

THIS

SATURDAY, OCT. 3

KICK-OFF —

1:30 P.M.

THE MOVEMENT FOR A NEW CONGRESS is concentrating on the fall, 1970, Congressional campaigns. But young people's active participation in the electoral system will not end with those elections — whatever the outcome. Students are determined to participate from now on in the decisions that shape the destiny of their country.

If the Movement for a New Congress succeeds, not only will there be a distinct improvement in the character of Congressional representation, but there will also be widespread restoration of confidence in the political process. By the same token, the failure of the Movement will not only embolden the forces of reaction within the Administration and on Capitol Hill, but will also deepen cynicism and increase alienation. The Movement for a New Congress offers the best single chance to begin to repair the profound division within American society: it must not fail.

Our best chance to invigorate America is to elect a New Congress: new in membership, new in philosophy, new in determination, new in goals. To do this, we need your help.

We need funds. We need workers. We need your interest and advice.

Come to the fourth floor lounge of "C" building, 222 East Michigan Street, Circle City Campus, to find out about plans in this area of the MNC at the following times:

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

10:30 A.M. to 12:00 Noon

8:00 — 9:00 P.M.

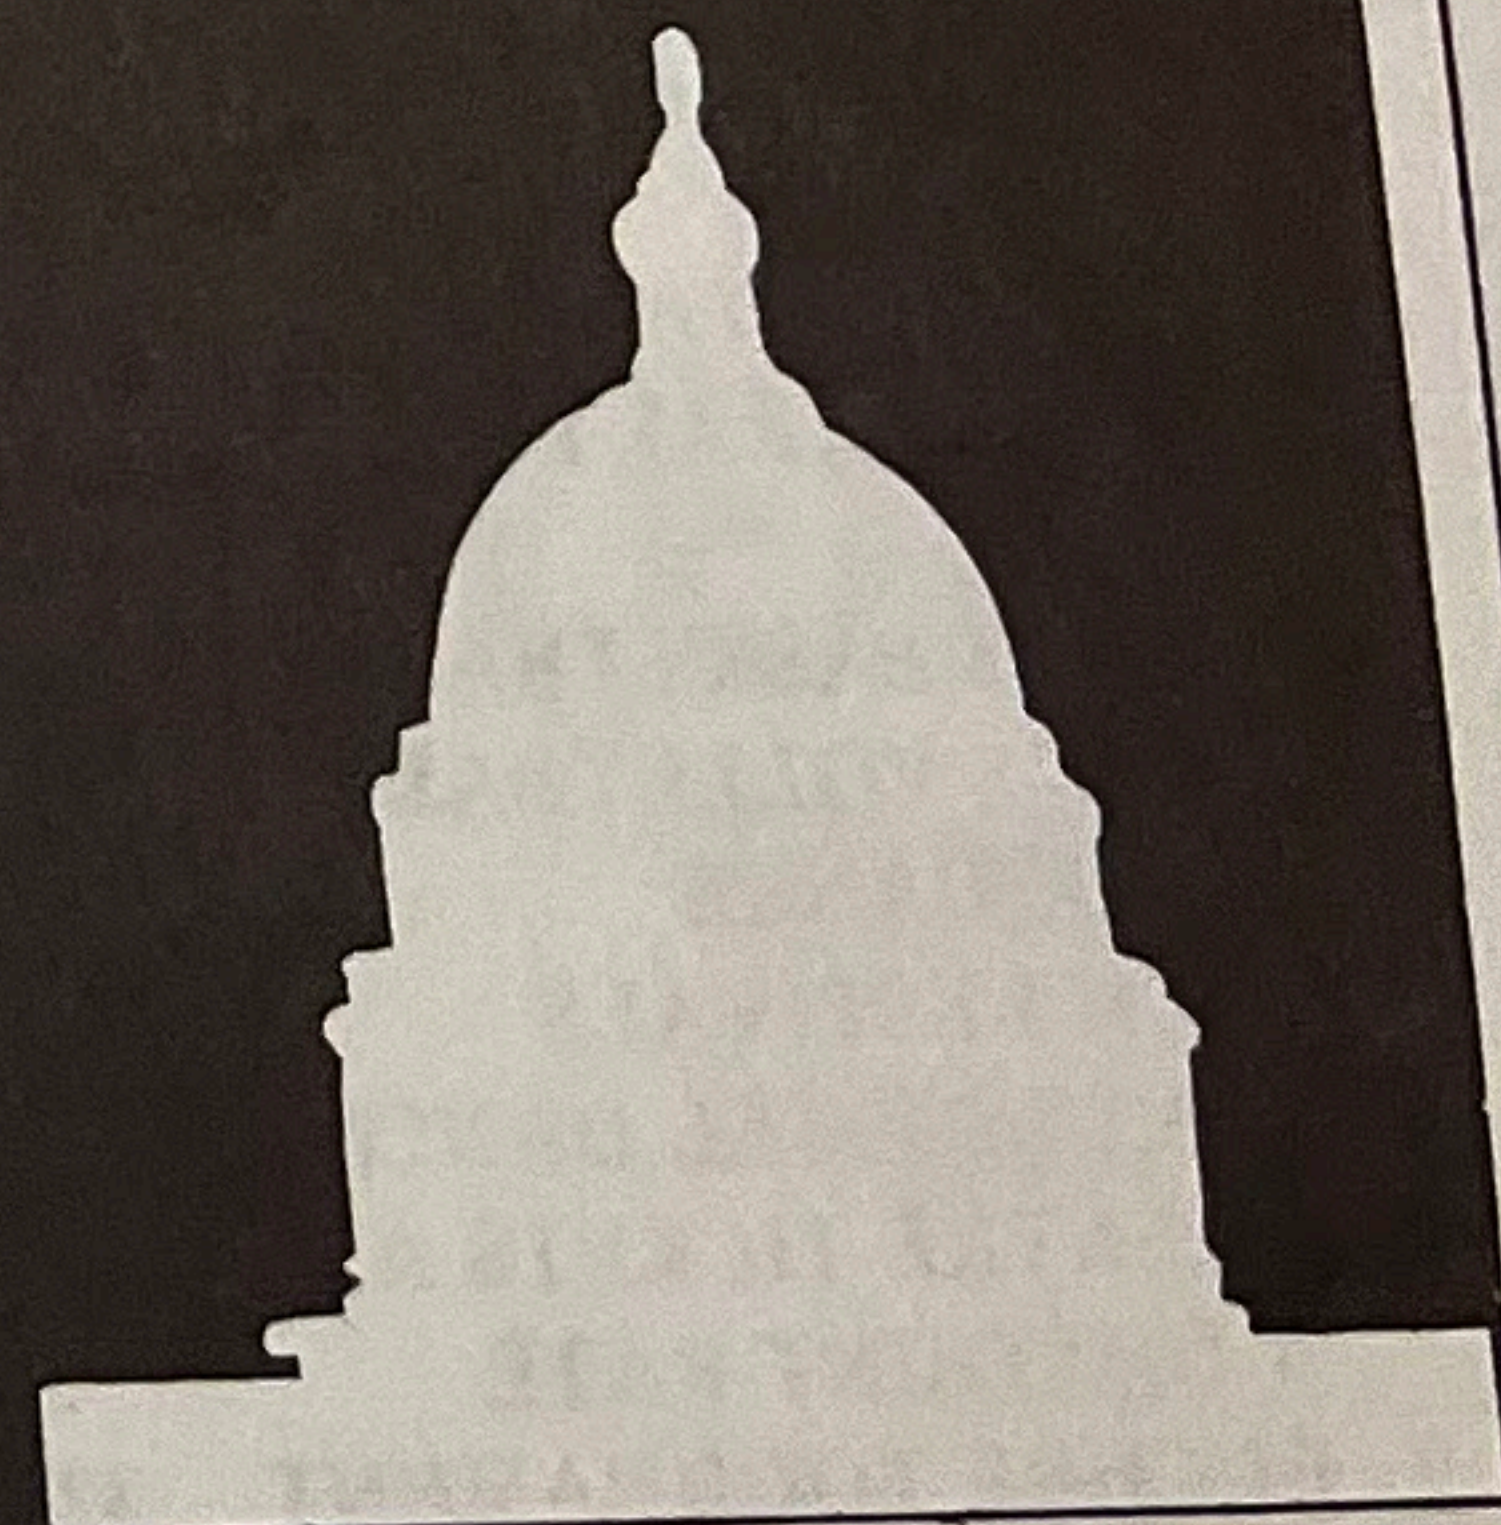

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

10:30 A.M. — 12:00 Noon

8:00 — 9:00 P.M.

For further information call 634-3420 and ask for either Mike Pitz or Diane Maple.

Movement For A New Congress

the past and things would be better this season. All students who do not participate are urged to come out each week and watch your fellow classmates in action.

— Willie Boone

"POOPISTS" THREAT TO WORLD

by Rebecca Barnes

Christians of the world, unite! Papists are trying to overthrow world governments and set up the Pope as world ruler. At least, that is the firm conviction of one old woman who was shouting her fiery, anti-Catholic theories at a downtown lunch hour crowd on a day in late summer.

She was standing at the corner of Pennsylvania and Ohio when I saw her. The light was against me, and as I stood waiting for it to change, she lumbered up and shoved a newspaper under my nose. Cackling gleefully, she began her diatribe against "them dirty 'Poopists'!" and their infamous leader, "that dirty 'Poop'!"

Before she found out I was a Catholic, we exchanged a few words.

"They're at it again!"

"Who?"

"Them Catholics! Them dirty

your Student Gov off successful eng
over, Bloomington with THREE DO will be appearing Atheneum ball
Michigan Street a dance of the year.
be on Friday, Octo until 12:30, and
and their guests ar charge.

ICE, originally olis, is a five man mostly all their ow an occasional dip in terials on the charts

Berry, Jack, Jim Mike of ICE invite come and join.

This dance is be allocations from the ity Fund.

IUPUI's Down
Bookstore will op 8:30 a.m. daily to ing text materials
Bookstore manage onton and her s preparing for we the onslaught of s
for books and supp

Located at 522
on the ground floo
the bookstore wil

Editor's Corner

When I Was a Child . .

It's time for our Circle City Campus Student Senate to stop playing games.

It's time for them to stop patting themselves on the back about momentary social activities and start planning meaningful services for the people they say they represent.

It's time they stopped talking about what chancellors, what deans, what state officials they have access to, and start using that accessibility to speak for the students and not their own egos.

Seven thousand dollars of the students' money for a Steinway grand piano, but not a dollar's worth of work done on research to see what financial aid programs might be possible with that money.

One thousand dollars for an ego-tripping movie from our Student Activity Fund, but not even half-hearted follow-through to insure the rest of the money would be there to insure production.

Hours of tasteless, formless debate and Senate meetings about mindless, haphazard proposals, and endless hours of card-playing and joke-swapping in the interims.

Meaningful projects lightly discussed with no productive discussion:

1. Better scheduling of classes.
2. A child-care center for students with children.
3. Shuttle service in the spring between the University Quarter and the old Circle City Campus buildings.
4. Comprehensive health services for CC students.
5. Decent lounge and eating facilities in the UQ.
6. Decent parking facilities in the UQ.
7. Fiscal integrity for their share of the $12,000 plus semester revenues of the Student Activity Fund.

To say the Senate is not responsible primarily for its own ineffectual leadership would be a cop-out. But who is it leading? The majority of students the members of the Senate talk to seem to see it as a social committee. And that, too, is a cop-out.

At a time when national leaders are at least willing to discuss matters of consequence with students, it is pathetic that the allegedly most articulate segment of our population under thirty are not even willing to take the time

DIRECTION

A large factor in each of our lives is that of probability. Looking around, we as college students, see a good probability that our continued education will increase our opportunities later on in life. At least we see our education as more valuable than other present alternatives — the draft, work, Canada, loafing.

ONOMATOPOEIA is weighing a probability of its own right now — how much will its direction be determined by its own staff, how much by a wide, representative circle of students.

Who will direct the newspaper? A staff of half a dozen people? Twenty or thirty reporters? Hopefully, our direction will be made clear by the feedback from more than just a few individuals.

There is a newspaper this semester. It will be shaped by the response of the students it serves.

A BETTER WAY

A. J. Abraham

Why is it at the 38th Street Campus at registration time that everything goes pretty smooth until you get to the bottom of things — the basement, that is? You even get to talk to a counselor with something resembling satisfactory results (perish the thought at the Circle City Campus).

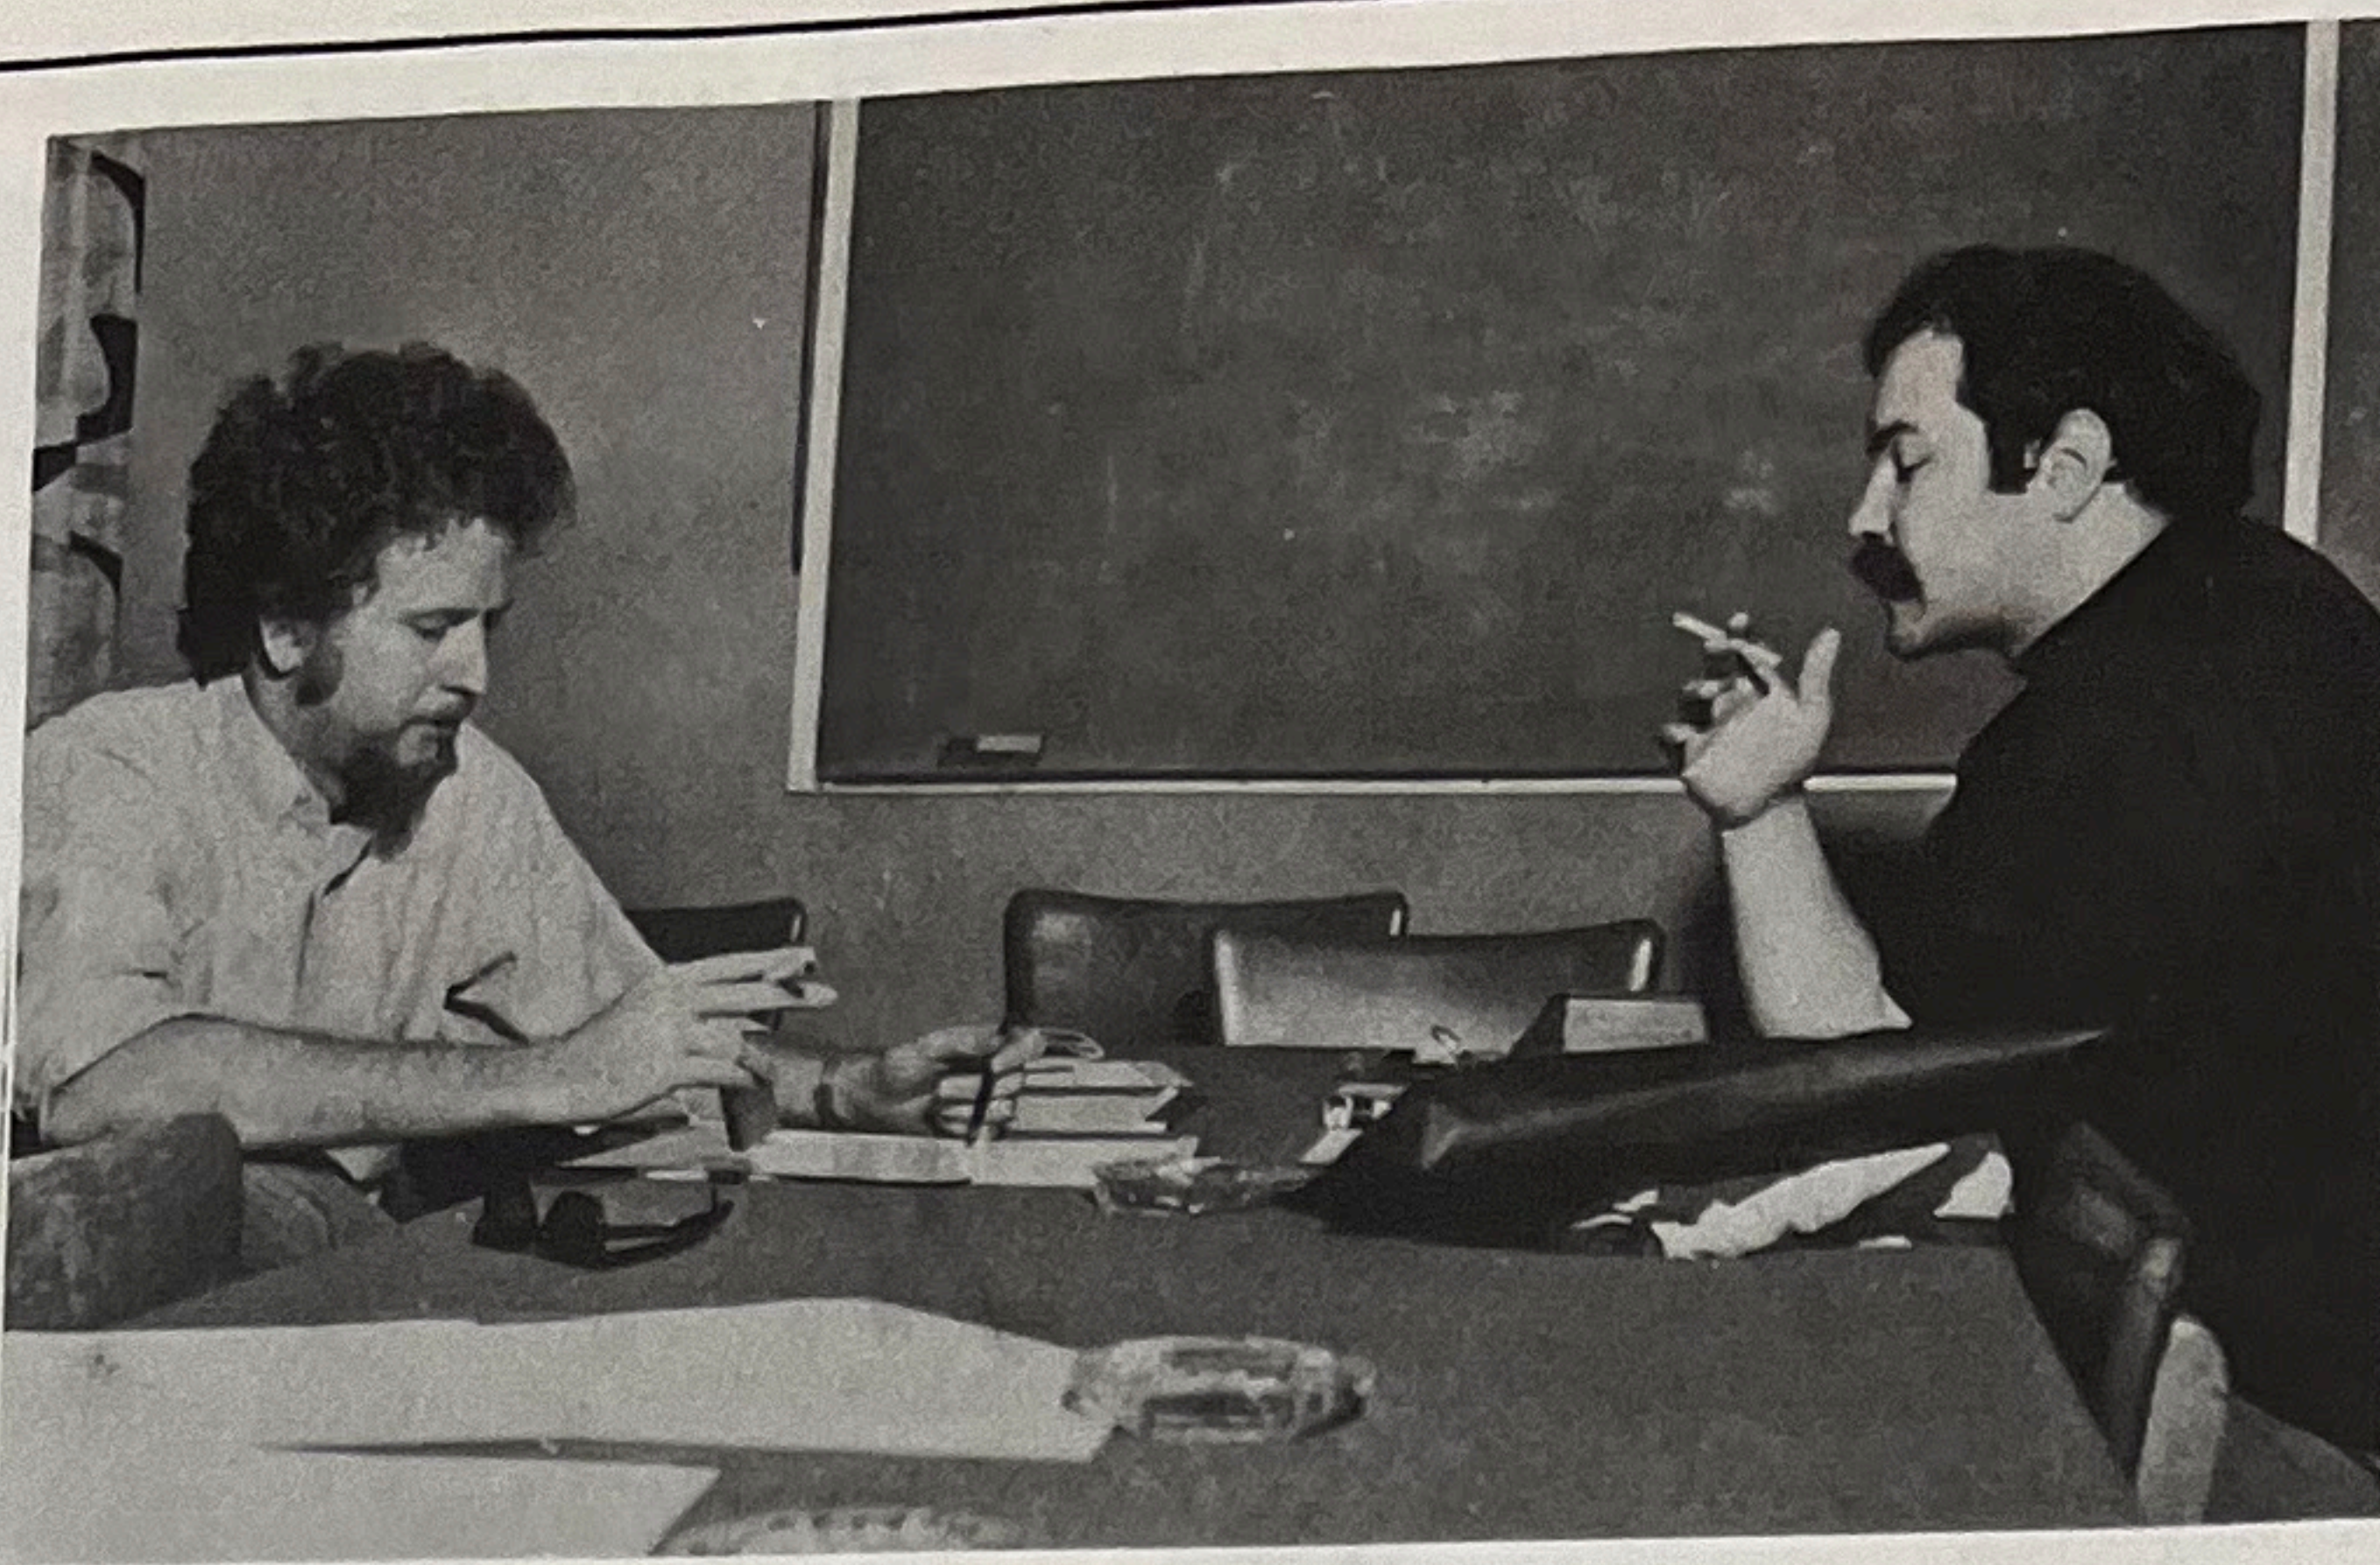

But once you hand in the package down in the dungeon, you sit for an hour and a half just waiting for a card with a "batch number" on it, and another half-hour for the batch number to be posted on the blackboard, before you proceed. But at least you SIT.

At the Circle City Campus you STAND . . . and STAND . . . and STAND. And when the doors close at 6 P.M., you may still be standing with 100 or more in the line ahead of you.

Now surely, among all those PhD's, all those Critical Path Engineers, Systems Designers, Business Methods instructors, administrators, innovators, creators, or just plain college bums — there must be some one who knows of a better way.

to demand more than euhre tournaments from their "government". Bread and circuses?

It's time to demand more of our Senate.

Editor of ONOMATOPOEIA, Vic Burford, and President of the Student Senate, Al Mitchler, went over some last-minute details last week concerning their trip to Washington, D. C., to represent the Circle City Campus and IUPUI at the Association of Student Government's President to Presidents Conference. A report of the conference will be in next week's ONOMATOPOEIA.

ANDY IN JAM FOR NEXT ELECTION

In 1968, while the National Democratic ticket won the eleventh congressional district of Indiana by less than 1000 votes, Congressman Andy Jacobs was re-elected by nearly 9,300 votes. Many have reasoned that since he withstood the trend in 1968, he is "safe" in 1970. Regrettably, such is not the case.

In 1968, Andy benefitted from a heavy inner-city vote, a phenomenon of a presidential election year. Obviously, that phenomenon is not available in this off-year election. Couple this lower propensity to vote in an off-year with the fact that the inner-city of Indianapolis has lost a substantial number of residents in the past two years and an even greater jeopardy is suggested. This is especially true when one considers that the boundaries of this district were drawn in a gerrymander against him just prior to the 1968 election.

Congressman Jacobs had this to say on the floor of the House, September 14, 1970:

"The venom so familiar in at least one high office in this administration has filtered down to the Treasurer of the United States, Mrs. Dorothy Elston, who while in Indianapolis this past weekend found it possible to describe our late President, John F. Kennedy, as a 'horrible misfit in the Presidency.'"

"Mr. Speaker, you expect that kind of talk from some people in our society. But haven't we had enough hate in high places?"

"President Lincoln said, 'I have no malice in my heart for any man. What I deal in is too vast for malice.'"

This will be a tight election contest, and Andy needs volunteers to help with the canvassing.

— Rick Applegate

NEWS ON STRAUB

Terry Straub, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 6th District, will speak on the Indochina War and its effects on foreign policy at a Hoosiers for Peace sponsored rally. The rally will be held October 10 at 8:00 at the Christian Theological Seminary (1000 W. 42nd Street). The rally is open to the public.

A dove on Vietnam, Straub, 24, is one of the youngest persons to seek a seat in Congress. He is running against William Bray, 67, a hawk. This is one of the few races that there is a clear contest between an established hawk and dove.

A graduate of Indiana University, Terry Straub was Area Coordinator for the Kennedy for President campaign in Indiana and California. He was Youth Coordinator for the Birch Bayh campaign in southern Indiana, and has held several student political offices including Vice-president of the I.U. Young Democrats and State President of the Indiana Collegiate Young Democrats.

— Michael Redman
C.C.C. Students For Peace

DEGREE APPLICATION DEADLINE TOMORROW

Students who expect to graduate this year MUST file for a degree application with the Recorder's office, Division of Arts and Science, 902 N. Meridian Street, Room 101 B.

Deadlines for filing degree applications for graduation in

February — Deadline October 1

June — Deadline October 1

September — Deadline March 1

Degree applications for dates later than September will not be accepted now.

Students who do not file a degree application will not graduate.

PEACE IN THE MIDEAST?

I heard that the United States had initiated a 90-day cease fire in the Middle East. At first I couldn't believe it, but through the repetitions on television, radio, and in the newspapers I came to believe it and I started to laugh at that crazy idea.

Why?

First, it is clear enough that the Arab people won't accept any agreement unless the problem of the Palestinians be resolved; that is, all of the Palestinians go back to Israel. On the other hand, the Israelis are not foolish enough to accept this idea, as they are not foolish enough to become a minority in their own state. As Mrs. Golda Mier said, "If the Jews become a minority in Israel, I prefer to go back to Milwaukee, Wisconsin." She is not about to put her own government in a more dangerous situation than it is in already.

Secondly, the cease-fire is endangering Israel more than ever before. How? The violation of the cease-fire by Egypt has already seen the installation of new missile sites and electronic equipment just ten miles from the Suez Canal. And, do you know what Washington's response was? President Nixon asked Egypt to stop installing these things; unfortunately, the response was negative, which gives us a clue that the Egyptians don't care as long as Russia is backing them.

So, people everywhere, stop guessing and imagining that there will be a peace in the Mid-East. The Big Four has done nothing so far and they will continue to do nothing. Peace will be impossible until both sides agree to meet in one room and talk directly with each other.

Salam Elauquam,

— Jeries Rabadi

SENATORIAL BOUT DRAWING NEAR

One of Nixon's top priorities as far as the 1970 elections go is to get Senator Hartke defeated. The Republican National Committee, as well as other outside sources, are providing Senator Hartke's opponent, Richard Roubush, with some $2 million — this is in addition to some $2 million that is being raised in Indiana. President Nixon and/or Spiro Agnew are expected to be here several times to convince the voters that Nixon would approve if Hoosiers elected someone who would give him a hand in the Senate. So no matter what kind of free time you have, no matter what your talents, skills, or preferences are, you can help Senator Hartke win in November. Don't look now!

— Mary Kelly

ONOMATOPOEIA is the newspaper of the Circle City Campus of IUPUI, with its office at 518 North Delaware Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. It is published every Wednesday, with a distribution of five thousand copies. Opinions expressed in ONOMATOPOEIA are those of its staff and writers and are not to be considered as those of IUPUI. ONOMATOPOEIA is non-profit, partially supported by its advertising, partially supported by the Student Activity Fund.

Editor-in-Chief Victor Burford
Advertising Manager Robert Haskin
Editing Secretary Rebecca Barnes
Business Secretary Lynn Smith
Administrative Advisors Mr. Campbell, Mr. Wakefield, Mr. Schultheis
Correspondents Alan Abraham, Dan Barrett, Willie Boone, Rick Applegate, Bill Perry, Mike Pyle, Mike Redman, Hank E. Three, Leslie Anderson

*Editor's CornerWhen I Was a Child . .

It's time for our Circle City Campus Student Senate to stop playing games.

It's time for them to stop patting themselves on the back about momentary social activities and start planning meaningful services for the people they say they represent.

It's time they stopped talking about what chancellors, what deans, what state officials they have access to, and start using that accessibility to speak for the students and not their own egos.

Seven thousand dollars of the students' money for a Steinway grand piano, but not a dollar's worth of work done on research to see what financial aid programs might be possible with that money.

One thousand dollars for an ego-tripping movie from our Student Activity Fund, but not even half-hearted follow-through to insure the rest of the money would be there to insure production.

Hours of tasteless, formless debate and Senate meetings about mindless, haphazard proposals, and endless hours of card-playing and joke-swapping in the interims.

Meaningful projects lightly discounted with no productive discussion:

1. Better scheduling of classes.
2. A child-care center for students with children.
3. Shuttle service in the spring between the University Quarter and the old Circle City Campus buildings.
4. Comprehensible health services for CC students.
5. Decent lounge and eating facilities in the UQ.
6. Decent parking facilities in the UQ.
7. Fiscal integrity for their

DIRECTION

A large factor in each of our lives is that of probability. Looking around, we as college students, see a good probability that our continued education will increase our opportunities later on in life. At least we see our education as more valuable than other present alternatives — the draft, work, Canada, loafing.

ONOMATOPOEIA is weighing a probability of its own right now — how much will its direction be determined by its own staff, how much by a wide, representative circle of students.

Who will direct the newspaper? A staff of half a dozen people? Twenty or thirty reporters? Hopefully, our direction will be made clear by the feedback from more than just a few individuals.

There is a newspaper this semester. It will be shaped by the response of the students it serves.

A BETTER WAY

A. J. Abraham

Why is it at the 38th Street Campus at registration time that everything goes pretty smooth until you get to the bottom of things — the basement, that is? You even get to talk to a counselor with something resembling satisfactory results (perish the thought at the Circle City Campus).

But once you hand in the package down in the dungeon, you sit for an hour and a half just waiting for a card with a "batch number" on it, and another half-hour for the batch number to be posted on the blackboard, before you proceed. But at least you SIT.

At the Circle City Campus you STAND . . . and STAND . . . and STAND. And when the doors close at 6 P.M., you may still be

*Editor
Senat their IUPU
Confe
TOPC*

AN

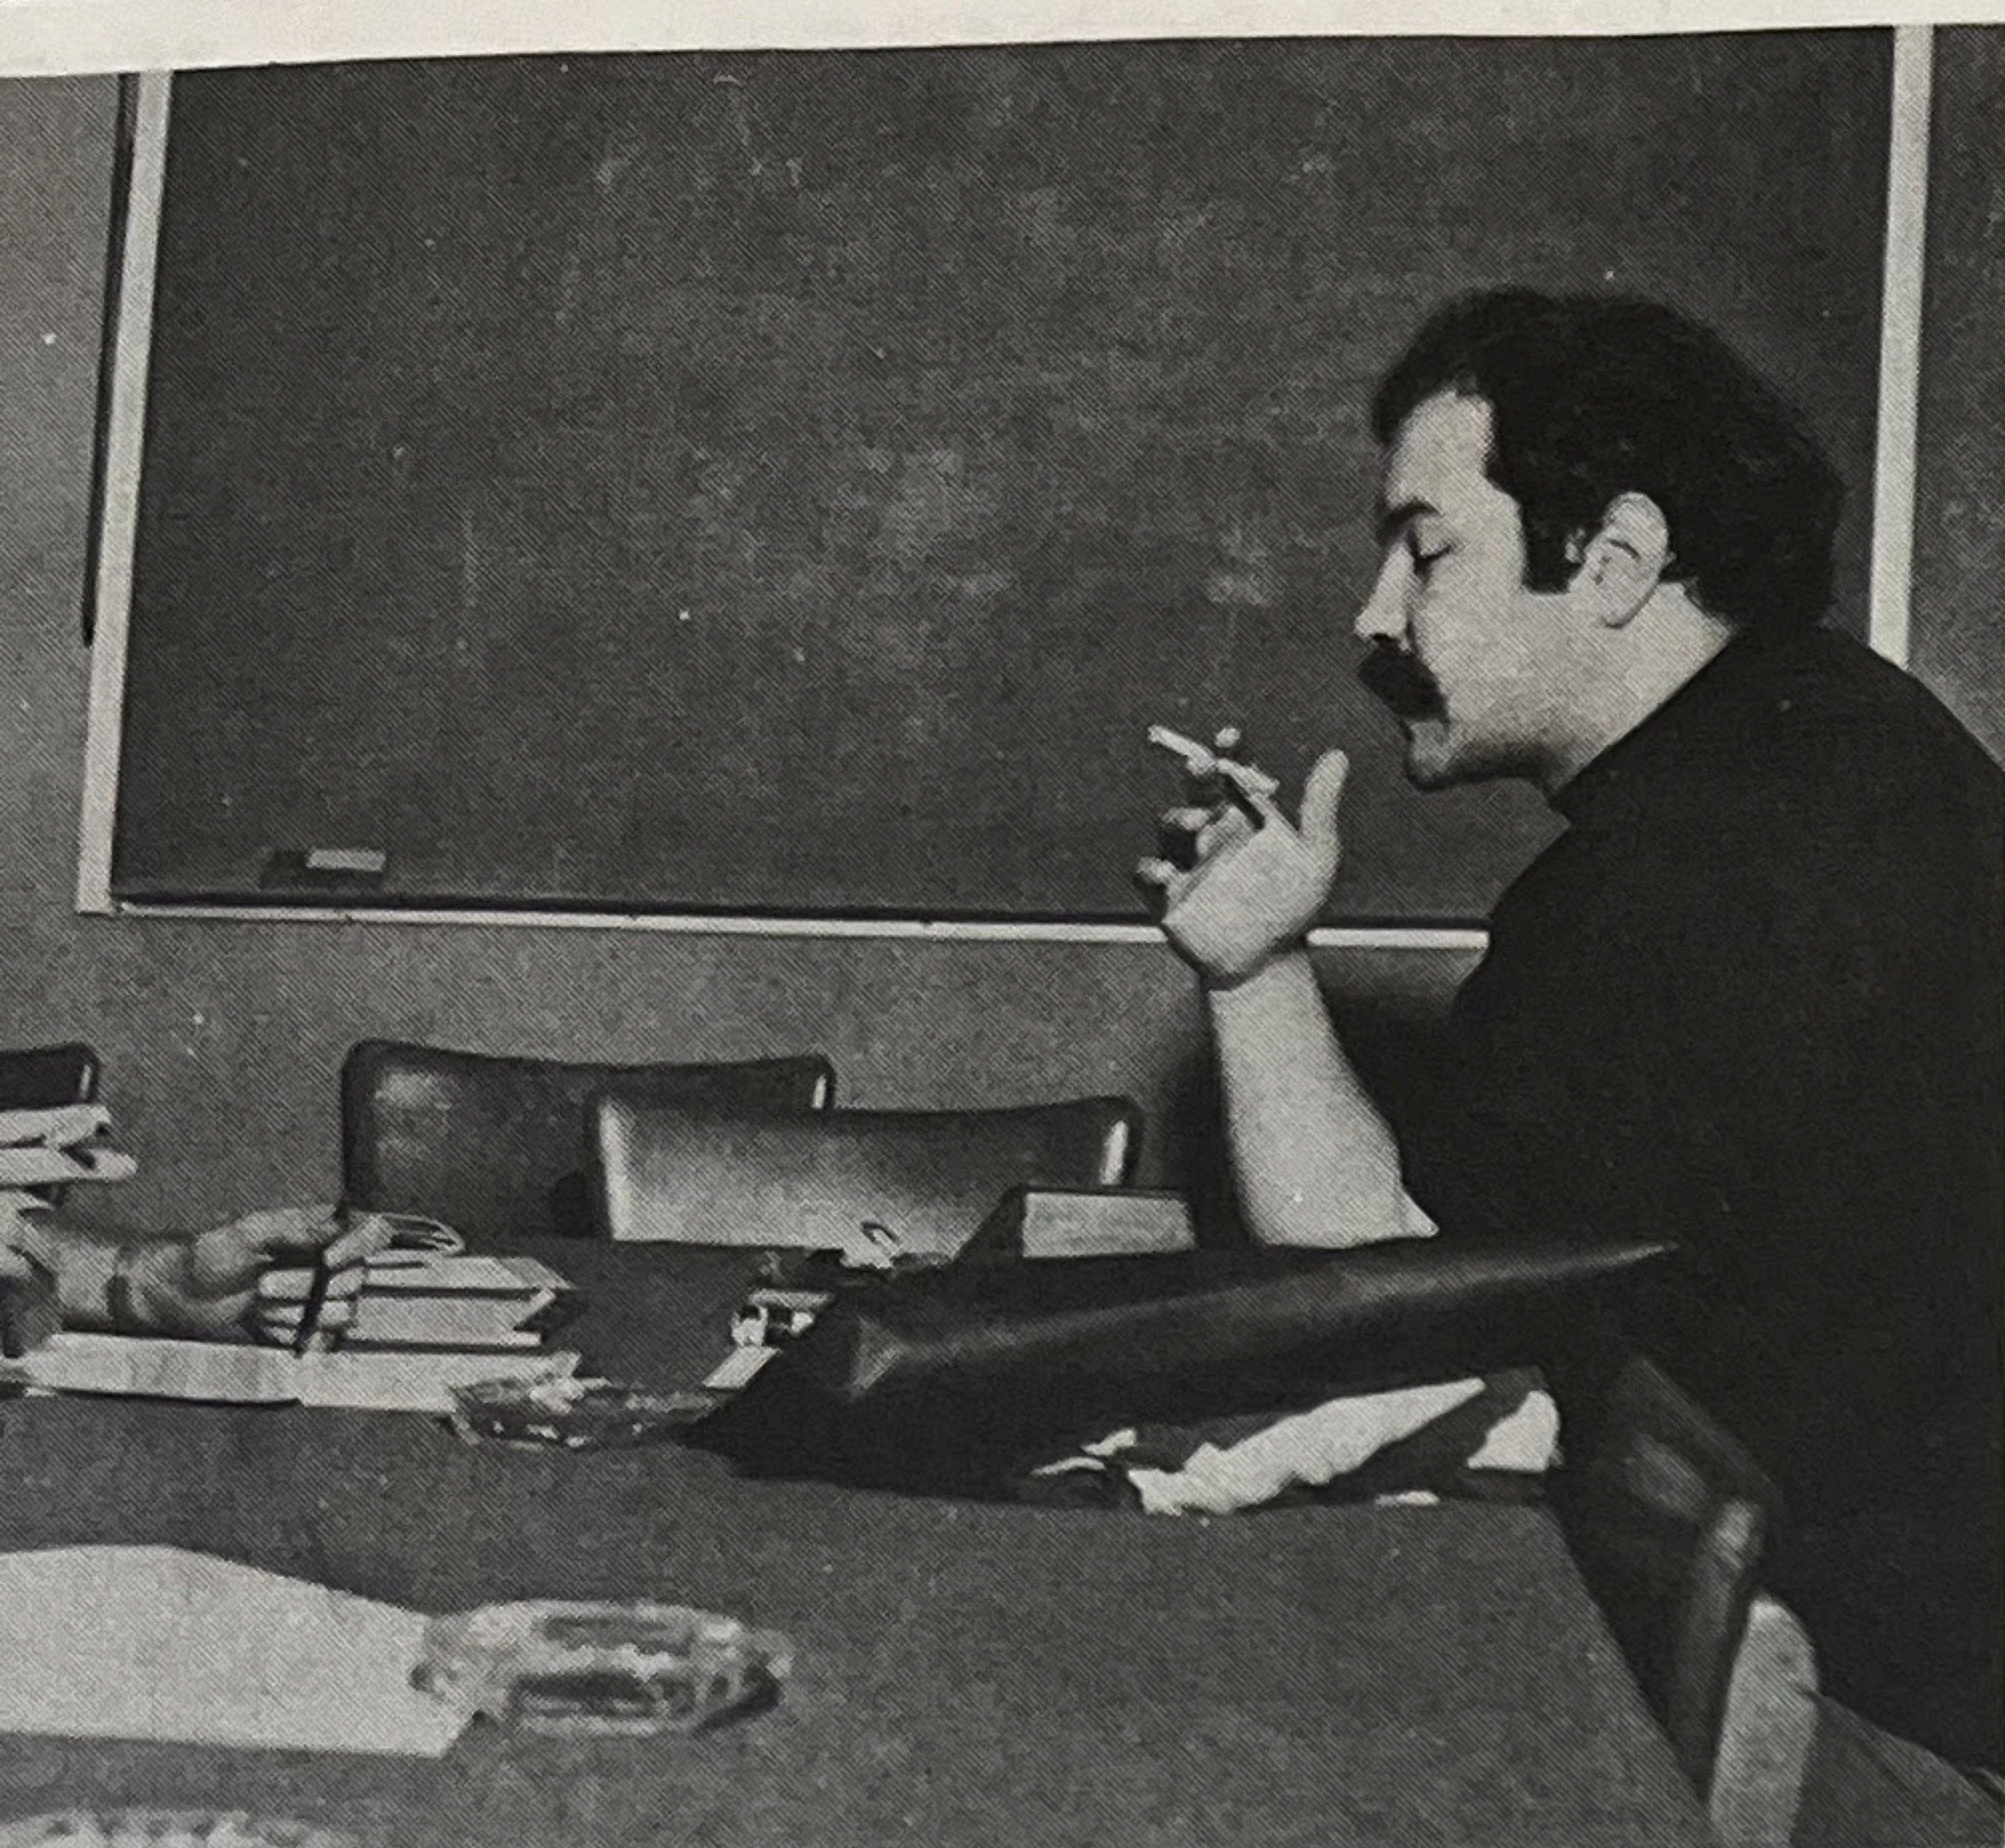

In
gressio
Jacob
since such is

In
of a pr able in ple thi in an c
the inn lost a s dents in an even gested.

when one daries of in a gerry prior to t

Congr
to say o
Septemb

"The least one istration
Treasurer

OEIA, Vic Burford, and President of the Student Government, D. C., to represent the Circle City Campus and President of Student Government's President to Presidents of the conference will be in next week's ONOMA-

AM FOR NEXT ELECTION

National Democratic ticket won the eleventh congressional district in Indiana by less than 1000 votes, Congressman Andy Jacobs won nearly 9,300 votes. Many have reasoned that Jacobs, who served in the House from 1968 to 1970, is "safe" in 1970. Regretfully, lost from a heavy inner-city vote, a phenomenon that has occurred every year. Obviously, that phenomenon is not available to the voters.

fact that Indianapolis has a large number of residents who are young and are suggesting that the boundaries of the congressional district be redrawn to include more of the inner city.

had this House,

in at the administration to the United States, while the weekend before last we had ect that people in the city had

NEWS ON STRAUB

Terry Straub, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 6th District, will speak on the Indochina War and its effects on foreign policy at a Hoosiers for Peace sponsored rally. The rally will be held October 10 at 8:00 at the Christian Theological Seminary (1000 W. 42nd Street). The rally is open to the public.

A dove on Vietnam, Straub, 24, is one of the youngest persons to seek a seat in Congress. He is running against William Bray, 67, a hawk. This is one of the few races that there is a clear contest between an established hawk and dove.

A graduate of Indiana University, Terry Straub was Area Coordinator for the Kennedy for President campaign in Indiana and California. He was Youth Co-ordi-

PEACE IN THE MIDEAST?

I heard that the United States had initiated a 90-day cease fire in the Middle East. At first I couldn't believe it, but through the repetitions on television, radio, and in the newspapers I came to believe it and I started to laugh at that crazy idea.

Why?

First, it is clear enough that the Arab people won't accept any agreement unless the problem of the Palestinians be resolved; that is, all of the Palestinians go back to Israel. On the other hand, the Israelis are not foolish enough to accept this idea, as they are not foolish enough to become a minority in their own state. As Mrs. Golda Mier said, "If the Jews become a minority in Israel, I prefer to go back to Milwaukee, Wisconsin." She is not about to put her own government in a more dangerous situation than it is in already.

Secondly, the cease-fire is endangering Israel more than ever before. How? The violation of the cease-fire by Egypt has already seen the installation of new missile sites and electronic equipment just ten miles from the Suez Canal. And, do you know what Washington's response was? President Nixon asked Egypt to stop installing these things; unfortunately, the response was negative, which gives us a clue that the Egyptians don't care as long as Russia is backing them.

So, people everywhere, stop guessing and imagining that there will be a peace in the Mid-East. The Big Four has done nothing so far and they will continue to do nothing. Peace will be impossible until both sides agree to meet in one room and talk directly with each other.

Salam Elauquam,

— Jeries Rabadi

SENATORIAL BOUT DRAWING NEAR

SPORTS

(Continued from page 1)

An important criterion for winning in this league is a good strong bench. It is therefore important for all participants to show up each week to support their team. Students here have demonstrated a very fine quality of basketball in the past and things would be better this season. All students who do not participate are urged to come out each week and watch your fellow classmates in action.

— Willie Boone

"POOPISTS" THREAT TO WORLD

by Rebecca Barnes

Christians of the world, unite! Papists are trying to overthrow world governments and set up the Pope as world ruler. At least, that is the firm conviction of one old woman who was shouting her fiery, anti-Catholic theories at a downtown lunch hour crowd on a day in late summer.

She was standing at the corner of Pennsylvania and Ohio when I saw her. The light was against me, and as I stood waiting for it to change, she lumbered up and shoved a newspaper under my nose. Cackling gleefully, she began her diatribe against "them dirty 'Poopists'!" and their infamous leader, "that dirty 'Poop'!"

Before she found out I was a Catholic, we exchanged a few words.

"They're at it again!"

"Who?"

"Them Catholics! Them dirty Poopists is trying to overthrow the Irish government!"

I looked dubiously at the newspaper she held under my nose. It was a copy of the Star and the old woman pointed triumphantly at the lead headline — "North Ireland Near Revolt."

"See? See? Them Poopists is sowing the seed of trouble all over the world. They been kicked outta Scotland, England and now Australia!"

"Australia?"

"Australia! Them English, bless their souls, they won't let them Poopists go too far. The queen's own children will stop 'em!"

ICE

The CCC S... ing in ICE to... erature and...

ICE, in the... concert tour... two years o... Circle City C... your Student... off successfu... over, Bloom... with THREE... will be app... Atheneum... Michigan Str... dance of the... be on Friday... until 12:30... and their gu... charge.

ICE, origi... olis, is a five... mostly all t... an occasiona... terials on th... Berry, Ja... Mike of IC... come and jo... This dan... allocations... ity Fund.

IUPUI

Bookstore... 8:30 a.m... ing text... Bookstor... onton a... preparing... the onsl... for book...

Loca... on the... the bo... until 8... Thursday... evenings... for stud... bookstor... only for... downtow... ing to... classes o... IUPUI m... puses.

Refun... store req... cept in... funded... on new b... weeks o... involves

6. Decent parking facilities in the UQ.

7. Fiscal integrity for their share of the $12,000 plus semester revenues of the Student Activity Fund.

To say the Senate is not responsible primarily for its own ineffectual leadership would be a cop-out. But who is it leading? The majority of students the members of the Senate talk to seem to see it as a social committee. And that, too, is a cop-out.

At a time when national leaders are at least willing to discuss matters of consequence with students, it is pathetic that the allegedly most articulate segment of our population under thirty are not even willing to take the time

STAND . . . and STAND . . . and STAND. And when the doors close at 6 P.M., you may still be standing with 100 or more in the line ahead of you.

Now surely, among all those PhD's, all those Critical Path Engineers, Systems Designers, Business Methods instructors, administrators, innovators, creators, or just plain college burns - there must be some one who knows of a better way.

to demand more than euehre tour-naments from their "government".

Bread and circuses?

It's time to demand more of our Senate.

least one nigh office in this administration has filtered down to the Treasurer of the United States, Mrs. Dorothy Elston, who while in Indianapolis this past weekend found it possible to describe our late President, John F. Kennedy, as a 'horrible misfit in the Presidency.'

"Mr. Speaker, you expect that kind of talk from some people in our society. But haven't we had enough hate in high places?"

"President Lincoln said, 'I have no malice in my heart for any man. What I deal in is too vast for malice.'"

This will be a tight election contest, and Andy needs volunteers to help with the canvassing.

- Rick Applegate

is one of the youngest persons to seek a seat in Congress. He is running against William Bray, 67, a hawk. This is one of the few races that there is a clear contest between an established hawk and dove.

A graduate of Indiana University, Terry Straub was Area Coordinator for the Kennedy for President campaign in Indiana and California. He was Youth Co-ordinator for the Birch Bayh campaign in southern Indiana, and has held several student political offices including Vice-president of the I.U. Young Democrats and State President of the Indiana Collegiate Young Democrats.

- Michael Redman
C.C.C. Students For Peace

DEGREE APPLICATION DEADLINE TOMORROW

Students who expect to graduate this year MUST file for a degree application with the Recorder's office, Division of Arts and Science, 902 N. Meridian Street, Room 101 B.

Deadlines for filing degree applications for graduation in

February - Deadline October 1

June - Deadline October 1

September - Deadline March 1

Degree applications for dates later than September will not be accepted now.

Students who do not file a degree application will not graduate.

SENATORIAL BOUT DRAWING NEAR

One of Nixon's top priorities as far as the 1970 elections to get Senator Hartke defeated. The Republican National Committee, as well as other sources, are providing Senator Hartke's opponent, Richard Leebush, with some $2 million; this is in addition to some million that is being raised in Indiana. President Nixon and Spiro Agnew are expected to here several times to convince voters that Nixon would appoint if Hoosiers elected someone would give him a hand in Senate. So no matter what of free time you have, no matter what your talents, skills, or differences are, you can help Senator Hartke win in November. Do look now!

- Mary K

ONOMATOPOEIA is the newspaper of the Circle City Campus of IUPUI, with its office at 518 North Delaware Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. It is published every Wednesday, with a distribution of five thousand copies. Opinions expressed in ONOMATOPOEIA are those of its staff and writers and are not to be considered as those of IUPUI. ONOMATOPOEIA is non-profit, partially supported by its advertising, partially supported by the Student Activity Fund.

Editor-in-Chief Victor Burford
Advertising Manager Robert Haskin
Editing Secretary Rebecca Barnes
Business Secretary Lynn Smith
Administrative Advisors Mr. Campbell, Mr. Wakefield, Mr. Schultheis
Correspondents Alan Abraham, Dan Barrett, Willie Boone, Rick Applegate, Bill Perry, Mike Pyle, Mike Redman, Hank E. Three, Leslie Anderson